SCHOOL SONG

Although Yale has always favored
The violet's dark blue,
And the gentle sons of Harvard,
To the crimson rose are true.
We will own our colors' splendor
And the honors of old,
While St. Marys stands defender
Of the Purple and the Gold.

Through the four long years of High School,
'Midst scenes we love so well,
As the mystic charms of knowledge
We vainly seek to spell,
Or we win athletic victories
And the football line we hold,
Still we work for dear old High School,
And the Purple and the Gold.

DEDICATION

As an expression of our appreciation and love, We, the Senior Class of 1937, dedicate this the twentieth issue of the
Purple and Gold to our parents.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1933, sixty-seven enthusiastic students gathered in the auditorium of St. Marys High School to organize the class of '37.

To guide us through our first year on the sea of education we elected the following officers:

President	James Hoy
Vice President	Nancy Webb
Secretary	Lattimer Simonton
Treasurer	Frank Pickens
Advisor	Mr. Farren

When school resumed in the fall of '34 the majority of the class returned as Sophomores and enjoyed greatly the functions of the year.

The officers for the year were:

President	Lattimer Simonton
Vice President	Cleston Brown
Secretary	Arch Hammett
Treasurer	Frank Pickens
Advisors	Miss Minnick and Mr. Karickhoff

Our Junior year was one of the biggest! Although we had lost several of our number we forged ahead and took a very active part in the school activities. The Junior class play "Digging Up The Dirt" was acclaimed quite successful and the Junior-Senior banquet considered one of the most novel and perfectly conducted for many years.

Class officers were:

President	Virginia Coram
Vice President	Frank Pickens
Secretary	Arch Hammett
Treasurer	Lattimer Simonton
Advisors	Miss Minnick and Mr. Dougherty

As Seniors we have worked with a new diligence to make the Class of '37 long remembered in the history of S. M. H. S. It is well represented in all school activities and the members strive to make the organizations to which they belong better because of their membership.

With the following as officers we have made great advancement in the past year:

President	Frank Pickens
Vice President	Lattimer Simonton
Secretary	Jane Flower
Treasurer	Arch Hammett
Advisors	Miss Williams and Mr. Campbell

As we are now ready to launch our ships on the "sea of life," we look forward to the future and know that our education will play the greatest part in making us what we are to be.

CLASS POEM

Four years we've spent within these walls,
And learned from day to day;
The knowledge that in years to come,
We'll need to pave our way.

Four years we've spent with friends so dear,
Our teachers and classmates true;
In time to come, we won't forget,
It makes no difference what we do.

All our old haunts, and the little things,
All who were kind and giving;
These memories we'll hold in our hearts,
To help make life worth living.

The time draws near when we must part,
And go forth to accomplish our tasks;
But our thoughts will linger in years to come,
On our friends of the Thirty-seven Class.

—C. V. H. '37

CLASS WILL

To St. Marys High School we leave our assurance that we will remember our days spent there, as four of the happiest years of our life.

To our Faculty we leave our sincere thanks for the help they have given us making it possible for us to graduate from S. M. H. S.

To our Principal, Mr. McMahan, we give our thanks and congratulations upon his success in making our high school years so smooth and pleasant.

To Miss Williams we will our appreciation for having stood by us for two years, and especially this last year in helping us publish the Annual.

To Mr. Campbell we leave all the American Democracy books, to be thrown into the furnace at the first opportunity.

To "Shang" we give our respect and admiration for his ability to remain so amiable and good natured, under the strain of unlocking lockers.

To the Juniors we leave the hope that next year will find them somewhat advanced from childhood, with a little dignity, and an altogether wiser group.

To the Sophomores we leave our regrets that graduation parts us from our sister class.

To the Freshmen we leave the right to step into the places of our sister class and our best wishes that they progress as well as the former holders did.

To Helen Farren and Robert Fleming we leave Frank Lee Picken's and Sara Russell's right to occupy the hall in front of Miss William's room.

To Donald Kester we leave "Buck" Sloan's right to annoy Miss Williams in Senior English Class.

To Lola Griffith we bequeath Evelyn Roby's powder puff which she applies to her nose so often.

To Margaret Powell we will Kate Our's right to be late every morning.

To Karlton Smith we leave Deane Core's dancing ability.

To "Tiny" Dimmick we bequeath "Skeet" Simonton's shyness of the girls.

To Jack Riggs we leave Douglass Smith's ability to play the cymbals in band.

To Jack Weber we will Lawrence Meek's brawn.

To Eugene Reynolds we leave Eddie McCullough's map of the United States. (Go west, young man, go west.)

To Junior Gerber we leave Norval Jones's technique to carry the ball. (Keep it up, Junior you'll make an All American.)

To Myra Dye we leave Charlotte Hubacher's ability to talk louder and faster than anyone else in home room (not to mention the halls.)

To Marjorie Pettitt we will Sylvia Haddox's and Pearl Smith's love for Democracy Class.

To Junior Williamson we leave Jack Beal's responsibility as "Mayor of Hebron."

To Cofer Sunderman we will Wayne Rigg's stature.

To Betty Gorrell we leave Nancy Webb's right to have fourteen dates a week.

To the Burroughs Sisters we will Phyllis Simonton's and Nellie Jones's ability to entertain in assembly.

To Vincent Safety we will Jim Hoy's love for music. (Treat it kindly, Vincent, it's been handed down.)

To Vera Casey we will June Cooke's right to hold up the bus every morning.

To Kathryn McCullough we give Jane Flower's right to make A's without studying.

To Junior Adams we bequeath Charles Hall's stage shyness.

To Vera Rolston we will Virginia Coram's ability to make wise cracks.

To Waunita Amidon we leave Fonda Lock's place in the Glee Club.

To Geraldine Ferrell we will Ruth Rea's gentle disposition.

To Leah Hammet we will Imogene Harness's ability to bluff the teachers.

To Lora Miller we will Ruth Moore's right to go with "her little brother."

To Kathryn Foster we will Christinnia Boley's love for U. S. History class.

To her sister, Hazel, we leave Ruth M. Moore's right to skip study-hall.

To Rosalea Barlow we bequeath Blanche Stewart's ability as office girl.

To Russell Paden we leave Herman Bell's neatness.

To Catherine Frasheur we give Bonnie Ruckman's right to accept rings from the boy friend.

To Martha Gallaher we give Dorothy Francis's ability to have midnight dates and still get to school on time.

To Ruth Delong and Helen Hammett we will Lorna Westbrook's love for "Baldy."

To "Chick" Ingram we bequeath Arch Hammett's right to eat candy in class.

To Nell Rose Hooper we leave Naomi Underwood's flirting ways.

To Delno Ingram we leave Howard Elliott's, Phillip Smith's, and Carl Reed's debating powers in Democracy Class.

To John Kester we will Francis Stewart's right to furnish the girls with chewing gum.

To Dale Adams we leave Sterling Underwood's ability as "Shang's" helper.

We hereby appoint Mahatma Ghandi the sole executor of this will.

CLASS PROPHECY

One cold evening I was sitting before the fire reading a Greek novel about the Three Fates who presided over the destinies of human beings. As I was reading I began to yawn and nod, and before long I was fast asleep. In my dreams, I journeyed to the far country where dwelt these Three Fates. Clotho, the fate who was present at births, held the distaff which supplied the slender strands; Lachesis spun the thread; Atropos, with shining shears ever ready, cut these threads of Life with a fateful snip. The home of these Three Fates was a dark and dismal cave which was illuminated only by flashes of lightning and a fire under the bailing caldron in the middle of the cavern.

"Fair Fates," I implored, "ye who preside over the destinies of the class of 1937, wilt thou not reveal to me the happenings of our future years? It is decreed that I must know."

After much discussion they agreed to tell me the futures of my classmates and motioned for me to come forward and watch the apparitions which they summoned at my demand to rise in a cloud of smoke.

The first apparition was of Lattimer Simonton in his own drug store at Schultz selling to a customer a medicine which was guaranteed to "cure all or kill quick." It seemed he had a very good business.

I then saw our friend Nancy Roby who had won national fame for her famous saying, "Oh, kids, I'm in love again." I wondered why she had never been able to catch a victim. Maybe it was because she changed her mind so often.

The scene changed and I was in a broadcasting station in New York where a well-known orchestra was practicing for their night performance. I gazed for a moment and thought the leader looked familiar but could not recognize him until an attractive lady walked into the studio and started a conversation with him. I recognized her as June Cooke and then I knew the orchestra leader was Jim Hoy, and June was now Mrs. Hoy.

Then before me appeared a night club in New York and I saw by the brilliantly lighted sign that the now famous Mexican dancing team of Coram and Core was appearing here.

Next my attention was drawn to an open field where a strange man was plowing. Who could it be? Surely not one of the Class of 1937 at this laborious business of following a plow on a western ranch? But now entered a new element. A woman came over the hills carrying a basket and a thermos bottle. His wife, of course, for only a patient, loving, self sacrificing wife would come out in the hot sun with a man's dinner. Now she came nearer. I could almost distinguish her features. Was it possible? Yes, it was Lorna Westbrook. Now I understood who the plowman was, of course; none other than Julian Hall.

Laurence Meeks was head superintendent of Carpenter's orchard and Sterling Underwood, an All-american, was his assistant. They both had hopes of a great future in this business.

Back to St. Marys where I saw the office of the daily newspaper of which Dwight Poole was the owner and editor. The newspaper business had grown so much in the past ten years that Mr. Poole had to have two private secretaries who I learned were Christinnia Boley and Maxine Allan. He also employed Ruth M. Moore as society editor and Dean Childers was his ace reporter.

My eyes were then focused on the Jamboree at Wheeling. To my surprise a handsome announcer started speaking and I realized it was Wayne Riggs who was ready to announce the musical number of that great singing team Nellie

Jones and Phyllis Simonton. Also appearing were Ruth I. Moore and Loren Newton as comedians.

Herman Bell, Norval Jones, Francis Stewart I saw as part of the backbone of the country—for if good farmers are not the country's backbone tell me what is.

Carl Reed was running a large soap factory at Vacluse because he said it was the cleanest city in the world and they needed a lot of soap.

Charlotte Hubacher, Imogene Childers, Bonnie Ruckman and Sylvia Haddox taught school for a time, but the numbers grew tiresome, so they all took schools of one scholar and were making splendid housekeepers.

Charles Sloan was seen to be in the State Insane Asylum—he had charge of it—and Naomi Underwood was the head nurse.

I then saw a vision of a large hotel in Chicago and found that Jane Flower was hostess here. Then I saw Howard Elliott as the chef. Two girls were helping him and when I saw their faces I recognized Dorothy Francis and Pearl Smith.

Two small children were seen running down the avenue and their countenances seemed to be familiar. From farther down the street I heard a woman call to them and saw it was Sara Russell now Mrs. Frank Pickens. Frank was with her but could hardly be seen for the bundles of groceries he carried. I had often wondered if high school romances ever lasted and here I had proof that some are the real thing.

A large fashion shop for ladies now appeared in the smoke screen about the caldron and in the spacious office I saw the owner and manager. She was none other than Nancy Lee Webb. In the sales room I saw Imogene Harness and Ruth Rea who were the highest paid salesladies in the shop. Jack Beale opened the elevator door for Blanche Stewart who was a well-known novelist.

The scenes then swiftly changed and I caught a glimpse of Douglas Smith going from house to house selling brooms of which the straws could be used for toothpicks. I found that the latter improvement had been invented by Jack Hess.

Again the scene shifted and I saw a man on a shoemaker's bench patching away on a shoe. As he looked up I saw it was our old friend Phillip Smith. Well, I always knew in whatever business he might engage he would make a success, whether it were patching shoes or teaching American Democracy.

Arch Hammett, that dashing, handsome blond, then came into view. How his hair gleamed in the bright California sunshine. But what was he doing? Oh! now I saw it plainly, he was picking oranges in a California orange grove. Could there be a more glorious fate?

I next found myself in a large church and saw a group of people talking to a young lady. From the talk I found out she was the minister's wife and when she started out the door I saw it was my friend Catherine Ours.

The last apparition showed the interior of an orphan's home and a woman was seen trying to make the children mind. It was Fonda Locke who had been matron for five years.

As the last vision vanished I was brought back to reality by the ringing of the telephone. I then realized I had been dreaming of the future of my classmates of '37.

ADMONITIONS

1. Peggy Sarber—Don't let the boys find out how crazy you are about them. They will find out soon enough.
2. Sue Triplett—Don't act so grown-up now. You have plenty of time to do that later on.
3. Lew Wells—Quit acting the way you do in the hall, or the students will never know that you make A's.
4. Russell Paden—Quit trying to get the girls to go for a ride with you. They want to live a little longer.
5. Reva Lamp—Be patient. If you wait long enough, love will come your way.
6. Mildred Harrison—Learn to like your red hair because Cofer thinks it is your crowning glory.
7. Deaver Drinko—Even though you do like a certain Sophomore girl, who is already taken, don't feel so bad about it. You might have a chance later on.
8. Carl Green—Keep up that sophisticated manner of yours, Carl, and you will always be popular with the girls, and the girls with your car.
9. Rex Glover—Don't spend so much time with one girl. The others will think they are slighted.
10. George Wm. West—Now that you have won the admiration of Lucille, make the most of it. This only comes once during a lifetime.
11. Julia Snyder—They say that you are crazy about the town of Newport. Maybe the regions around New York were too much for you.
12. Katherine Foster—You should never make the first advance in the art of wooing your love. Let Deane start first.
13. Friend Fleming—Stop having so many different girl-friends. We never know whom we will find you with next.
14. Augusta Houseman—Keep up the good work, Augusta. You might make a good teacher yourself someday.
15. Lucille Quillen—Now that you are going with a high-school boy we hope that you have gotten over your craze for those Marietta College fellows.
16. Mabel Dearth—Why not do your skating in St. Marys? We hear that Pennsboro is a long way off.
17. Harold Butler—Keep up the good work of trying to remain small and remember that you have only as much dignity as your size.
18. Helen Hammett—Don't feel slighted, Helen. You may get a boy friend of your own some day.
19. Glen Vincent—Keep up the family tradition, Glen. Don't disappoint us; we expect the wedding bells in June.
20. Catherine Frasheur—We're with you in hoping Ed will come back some day.
21. Pauline Wood—Blonds are always fickle, Pauline. Why not try a little hair dye?
22. Ruth Delong—Don't give up the chase, Ruth. You might get Skeet yet.
23. Junior Nelson—Your ability, which was displayed in "Girl Shy," might make you a second Clark Gable some day.
24. Sara Lou Webb—Watch your step with these Junior boys. We have heard that they are very fickle.
25. Ralph Wagner—You have a lot of competition, Ralph. You had better watch those Schultz fellows.

26. Clarence Stewart—Better settle down, Clarence. We hope to see you graduate next year.
27. Patty Walton—Don't keep looking for Norval so much. You might get serious eye trouble.
28. Lavant Core—Keep up your sense of humor. Just look what it did for your brother, Deane.
29. Donald Kester—Give the lower classmen a break. Can't you see that wistful look in Betty's eyes?
30. Martha Dotson—You might think you're a lady now, but you haven't grown up yet.
31. John Smith—Take your choice, John—Julia, Vera, or Eloise.
32. John Kester—Watch out, John. That certain Junior girl sure has a temper.
33. Mr. Campbell—With your blue eyes and black hair you ought to go in the movies. Look at Robert Taylor.
34. Mr. Swinehart—The way you handle a violin ought to take you far in the world of music. Maybe you will be a second Fritz Kreisler.
35. Mrs. Stanton—Don't act so hardboiled with the students. No wonder they are dumb when they get in the upper grades. You scare them into silence.
36. Juniors—Don't act so peppy this year. Save your energy for next year. That is the time you will need it.
37. Sophomores—Now that you have come this far, look up to the standards of your sister class, and maintain that dignity until you have come to where we have finished.
38. Freshmen—Even though you are in first year high school, remember there are other grades above you.
40. Shang—Keep up the work of keeping secrets, Shang. We all know you won't tell on us.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

The class of "38" was first organized in September 1934. Our group consisted of 108 members, the largest enrollment ever reached in St. Marys High School.

We selected as the leaders for our class:

President.....Robert Fleming
Vice President.....Jack Weber
Secretary.....Myra Dye
Treasurer.....Ralph Cox
Class Sponsors, Miss Clark, Mr. Farren and Miss Smith

In the fall of "35" our members had been reduced to ninety four. We had representatives in athletics and music. A very delightful party was held at the Sorority Hall with the faculty acting as Chaperones.

Officers elected for that year were the following:

President.....George Wm. West
Vice President.....Kathryn McCullough
Secretary.....Helen Farren
Treasurer.....Charles Ingram
Class Reporter.....Lucille Quillen
Class Sponsors, Miss Barkwill, Miss Simonton, Mr. Varner

As Juniors we have completed a most successful year. We have participated in all lines of school activities: football, basketball, band, orchestra, operetta. The Junior class play "Girl Shy" was well received by an appreciative audience. We won the interclass basketball tournament in 1937.

May 21 was the day of the crowning event of the year, the Junior-Senior Banquet. We endeavored to make it the best ever given by the Junior class. All the guests enjoyed it very much.

The officers selected to lead the class this year were the following:

President.....George Wm. West
Vice President.....Jack Weber
Secretary.....Marguerite Pettitt
Treasurer.....Delno Ingram
Class Reporters.....Kathryn McCullough, John Kester
Class Sponsors
 Miss Minnick, Miss Simonton, Mr. Dougherty

The class of "38" hopes to be one of the strongest to graduate from Saint Marys High School.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club was organized in September and has met regularly every Friday, under the supervision of Mrs. Walton.

The following officers were elected: President, June Cooke; Vice President, June Dye; Secretary, Fonda Locke; Treasurer, Virginia Gardner.

A successful operetta, The King's Courtship, was presented by the club, Friday, April 2.

The members of the Glee Club were: June Cooke, Fonda Locke, June Dye, Juanita Amidon, Phyllis Simonton, Nellie Jones, Virginia Gardner, Edith Delong, Hazel Cunningham, Louise McCullough, Wanda Boley, Pearl Miracle, Catherine Frasier, Evelyn Birkhimer, Sylvia Haddox, Darleen Haught, Twila Seese, Lora Miller, Isabel Newton, Esta Mae Shields, Ruby Garrison, James Hoy, Claude Oliver, George Wm. VanValey, Carlton Smith.

CHORUS

A group of over a hundred singers, under the direction of Miss Isabelle Strickling, met each Tuesday during activity period. The chorus created much interest among the pupils and gave them an opportunity to develop their vocal talents.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Under the supervision of Miss Edith Cornell this organization has taken an active part in school affairs. Several clever assembly programs were presented. The club started a fund for new stage equipment which will soon be sufficient to bring results.

The officers for the past year were: President, Frank Lee Pickens; Vice President, Nancy Lee Webb; Secretary, Sara Russell; Treasurer, Jane Flower.

4-H CLUB

Leader, Mrs. Stanton; President, Helen Louise Bills; Vice President, Virginia Cumblidge; Secretary and Treasurer, Zella Cooper; Reporter, Yvonne Gallaher; Motto, To make the best better.

State 4-H Club Pledge—I Pledge: My Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, My health to better living, For my club, my community and my country.

ARGUS

"Argus" an eight-page monthly magazine, was published during the 1936-37 school term by the members of the journalism class and Quill and Scroll, the international honor society for high school journalists. Seven syndicate issues and two special mimeographed editions were edited.

The "Argus" staff was as follows:

Editor	Augusta Houseman
Assistant Editor	Jim Hoy
Business Manager	Naomi Underwood
Advertising	Ruth M. Moore
Circulation	Kathleen Wright
Sports	Jack Beale and Wallace Hess

Typists—
Maxine Powell, Juanita Taylor, Howard Elliot, Maxine Allen
Advisor	Miss Minnick

Twelve new members were accepted by the St. Marys chapter of Quill and Scroll at the public initiation held on February 17, 1937. Those chosen were: Phyllis Simonton, Kathleen Wright, Juanita Bumgardner, Ruth M. Moore, Sara Russell, Nellie Jones, Kathryn McCullough, Jack Beale, Frank Pickens, Deane Core, Jim Hoy, and Miss Virginia Barkwill.

ART CLUB

The Art Club, a new organization in S. M. H. S., was sponsored by Mrs. Jessie Campbell, County Art Supervisor. Several pupils showed an interest and reported weekly for the one hour club period.

Different projects were introduced including free hand sketching, design, color combinations, lettering and crafts. The students learned something about the proper usage of wax crayons, sketching pencils, paper cutting, charcoal and colored chalk. Two craft problems were attempted: wall panels made with wax crayon on cloth, and leather tooling. Useful articles were made of leather—including book marks, key containers, coin purses, scout kerchief holder, and bill-folds.

Those reporting to the club for art work were: Fay Bradfield, Beulah Colvin, Levant Core, Soulene Goldston, Ester Garvin, Evelyn Hart, Martha Heddleston, Edith Hendrickson, Ruth M. Moore, Clifford Pickens, Ada Sayger, Catherine Scott, Pearl Smith, Julia Snyder, Raymond Stewart, Blanche Stewart, Thelma Parks, Lew Wells, Jr., Ruth Whaley and Loren Newton.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In the year 1933, the St. Marys High School received a charter to institute its own chapter of the National Honor Society. Admittance to this society is based upon four standards: Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. The first requisite is that the pupil must be in the upper third of his class. Members are elected each year, there being allowed fifteen per cent of Seniors and fifteen per cent of Juniors.

The members for the years are: 1933—Bob Barker, Bob Pifer, Bill Locke, Norman Mitchell, Glen Butcher, Mary Jemison, Rosalie Newell, Edith Riggs, Kathleen Newell, Mary Gwinn, Rolla Williams, Jr.

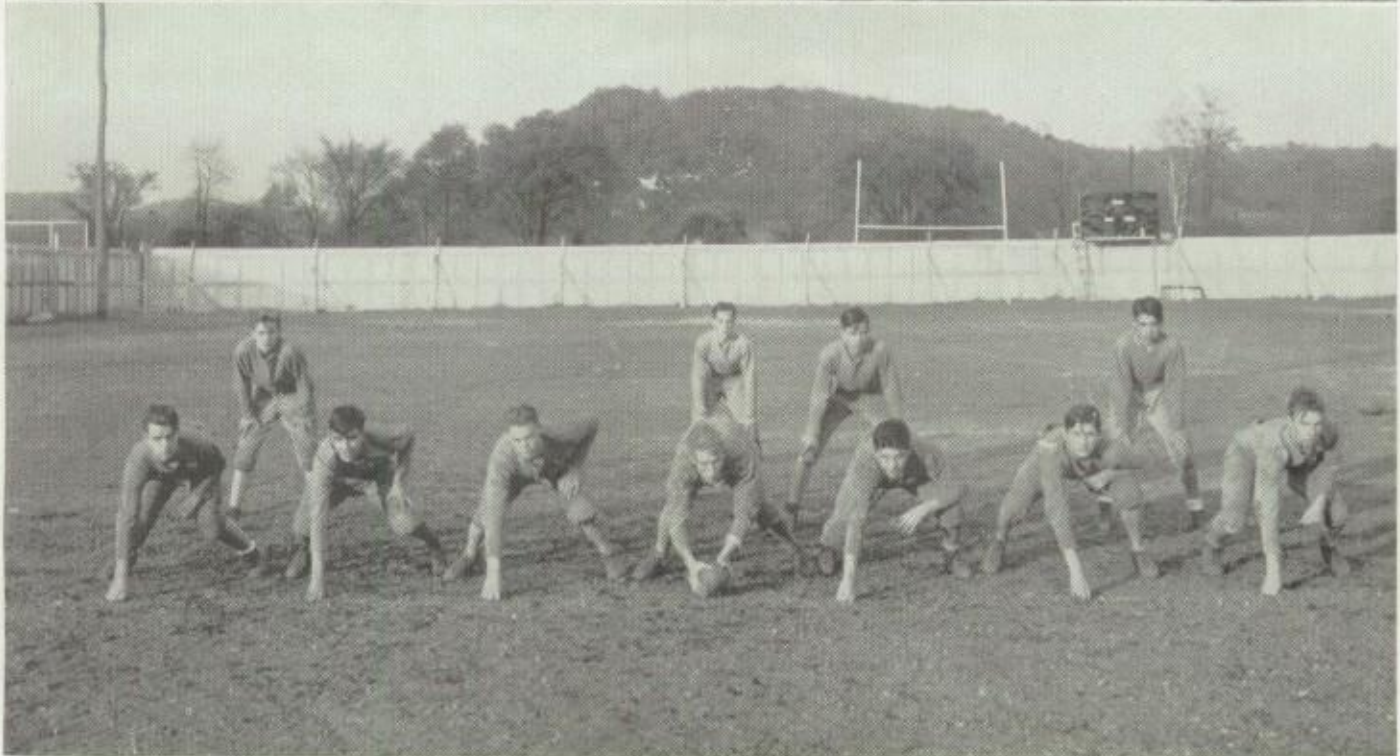

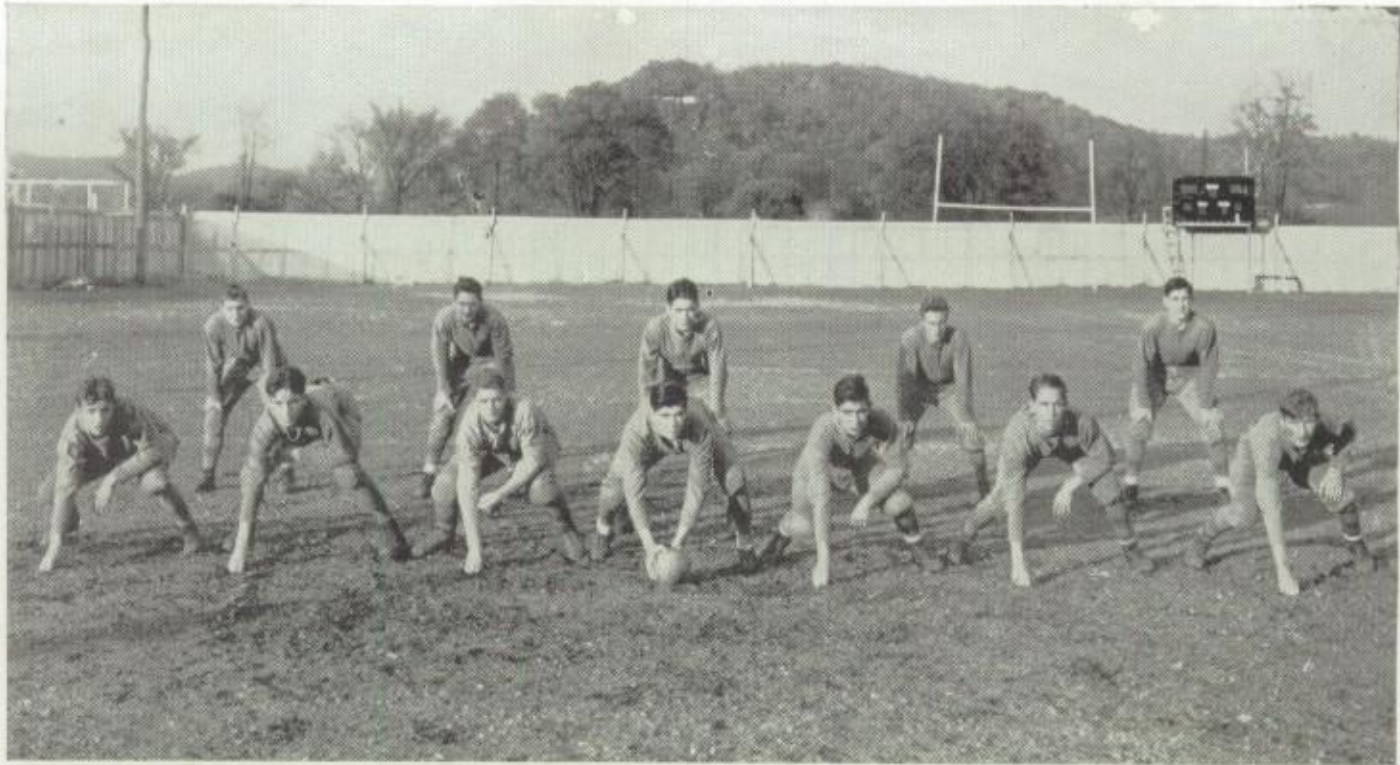

For 1934 the following were chosen: Laird Allison, Rolla Turner, Wilbert Rogers, Wanda Guthrie, Edgar Fleming, Frankie Feamster, Marion Nutter, Denton Wright, Jane Triplett, Bob Ingram, Claude Grim, Jr.

For 1935 the following were elected: Audrey Campbell, Pearle Kelly, Ruth Locke, Florence McCullough, Mildred Mitchell, Robert Powell, Walter Sloan.

For 1936 the following were chosen: Nellie Gallaher, Della Moore, Rebecca Carpenter, Ruth Ann Bailey, Ruby Maston, Joe Barron, Edison McCullough, Charles Newell, Golda Reaser, George Cox, Virginia Dysko, Lattimer Simonton, Fonda Locke, Jane Flower.

For 1937 the following were chosen: Imogene Harness, Arch Hammett, Nancy Lee Webb, June Cooke.

ATHLETICS

SUMMARY OF SEASON

A few days before the opening of the school, Coach Nichols called for a meeting of football candidates. About twenty-five boys responded and the next two weeks were spent in learning the fundamentals of the game. Coach Nichols was confronted with the task of building a successful football machine from practically green material. Because of the weight and size of the team, they had to depend largely upon an aerial attack which proved fatal to several teams during the season. The team completed the season with a .666 average. Six games were won and four lost.

At the end of the season letter awards were presented to seventeen boys. Captain Cantner, Simonton, McCullough, N. Jones, Underwood, Meeks, Hammett and Hess will be lost by graduation, all of whom were regulars. Players who earned letters and will be back next year are: B. Brown, Gerber, Wilson, F. Jones, E. Brown, C. Ingram, Fleming, Hall, and D. Ingram.

FOOTBALL REVIEW

St. Marys 14; Middlebourne 0. Sept. 18

A large crowd was present to see the opening game of the season. The score little tells St. Marys supremacy over the Tyler County lads. The Blue Devils were slow to start, but as they progressed they flashed form of last year's great team.

St. Marys 0; Marietta 32. Sept. 25

This was the hardest game of the season. Marietta presented a strong and fast aggregation. Although the game was close during the first half, our boys soon weakened under a much heavier team. From the opening whistle to the final gun the boys played hard, straight football.

St. Marys 8; Salem 7. Oct. 1

This was one of the best games of the season. The final score was not decided nor made until the last thirty seconds of play. Hess broke through the Salem line and blocked a kick behind their goal line. Simonton, St. Marys Quarterback, intercepted a pass and ran 75 yards for a touchdown.

THE PURPLE AND GOLD

St. Marys 13; Pennsboro 0. Oct. 9

Pennsboro came over here to avenge the lopsided score of last year. This game was played in a sea of mud, which would seem to the advantage of the much heavier Pennsboro team. St. Marys displayed a passing attack which is seldom ever seen under such playing conditions. As Pennsboro is an old rival, the game was a thrilling one.

St. Marys 26; Pullman 0. Oct. 16

The Pullman team provided little competition for the Blue Devils. The regulars ran up a 19—0 score in the first quarter. Then the reserves were given a chance to gain a little experience, and succeeded in scoring a touchdown over the Pullman team.

St. Marys 6; Williamstown 0. Oct. 23

This game turned out to be one of the hardest and most thrilling game of the season. Williamstown came here with a light fast team and confidence of victory. Because of the Yellow Jackets unusual defense, the Blue Devils had to take to the air for the thin margin of victory. During this game the Blue Devils threw 22 passes and completed 15 of them.

St. Marys 6; Spencer 14. Oct. 30

Spencer was a home game. They presented a powerful eleven, and a contender for the State Championship. It was a thrilling game—many passes being attempted and completed and beautiful openfield running by Mac, one of West Va.'s leading backs. The final score told the story.

St. Marys 13; Harrisville 6. Nov. 5

The squad traveled to Harrisville to meet the strong eleven from that city. This was a very thrilling game. Harrisville scored on a march down the field in the first quarter. The half ended 6 to 0 for Harrisville. In the second half it was a different story. Fleming and McCullough cashed in on two 75 yard runs for scores.

St. Marys 6; Sistersville 21. Nov. 11

A large number of fans followed the boys to Sistersville and witnessed a game that will be remembered for a number of years, not because we were defeated, but because of the way the boys came back in the last half and outplayed the Tigers. Sistersville scored rapidly in the early minutes of the game and the Blue Devils were unable to overcome the score which was against them. St. Mary gained 12 first downs to 11 for Sistersville. The Blue Devils scored their lone tally in the early minutes of the third quarter.

St. Marys 0, Grantsville 26. Nov. 21

The final game found St. Marys playing on foreign soil—traveling to Grantsville to meet one of the strongest teams in this section of the state. At the half it was 0 to 0, but their weight and reserve strength finally told the story.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

For the first time in the history of the school a Junior High Football team was organized, and coached by Mr. Varner. Because of lack of equipment, the season did not get started until late, but the boys played a four game schedule with the following results.

St. Marys 6; Marietta 0—There
 St. Marys 12; Marietta 0—Here
 St. Marys 12; Woodsfield 0—Here
 St. Marys 0; Woodsfield 18—There

Some of the outstanding players who will be valuable Varsity men in future years were: Van Valey, Core, Virden, Fleming, Powell, Crisswell, Rea, Wilson, Boley, Harrison, Safety, Northrop, Dillon, LaRue, and Fitzpatrick.

BASKETBALL

Successful Basketball Season Completed

Basketball season for St. Marys High was successfully brought to a close March 2, at Pennsboro. Coach Nichols worked hard with the boys and with their co-operation turned out a very successful team. The record:

St. Marys 14; Parkersburg 34.
St. Marys 14; New Martinsville 24.
St. Marys 22; Harrisville 15.
St. Marys 25; Cairo 15.
St. Marys 30; Williamstown 27.
St. Marys 19; Harrisville 20.
St. Marys 8; Sistersville 26.
St. Marys 32; Bristol 26.

St. Marys 30; Pennsboro 20.
St. Marys 19; Cairo 17
St. Marys 36; Middlebourne 16
St. Marys 19; Salem 36.
St. Marys 24; New Martinsville 32
St. Marys 30; Williamstown 27.
St. Marys 23; Sistersville 27.
St. Marys 21; Pennsboro 23.

Devils Have Best Foul Shot

Lattimer Simonton, '37, won the foul shooting contest held at the Sistersville gym, before the championship game of the Sectional Tournament, and also was placed on the all-conference team this year. Simonton was considered one of the best guards in the conference. Robert Fleming was placed on the second team and Charles and Delno Ingram received honorable mention.

Junior Class Wins Tournament

Juniors defeated the Seniors 29 to 17 to win the annual class tournament. The tournament began by the Juniors defeating the Sophomores 26 to 7, and then the Seniors defeated the Freshmen 26 to 17. The winners of these two games then contested for the championship and the class of '38 came through as the winners.

SPRING SPORTS

Tennis

Tennis again this year is one of the popular sports of the school. With the three tennis courts in very good condition, the interest in tennis has been greatly increased.

Owing to the lack of experience and the playing condition of the courts, in the past St. Marys was limited to inter-class games. Later in the season a tournament was played and the winner decided by elimination of all other contestants.

It is hoped that in the future St. Marys will have a team that will rank with the best in the state.

Softball

Softball this year was one of the leading spring sports of this High School. This game gave a greater number of students a chance to enter into active competition.

A plan this year was used in order to have the teams more evenly divided. The league consisted of ten teams, five teams in the senior division, and five in the junior division.

The following teams and captains were chosen in the senior division: Ohio Valley Wonders, Robert Fleming; Campus Cubs, Edwin McCullough; All Stars, Julian Hess; Pirates, Howard Meeks; St. Marians, Solomon Hall.

Track

Track is rapidly becoming one of the major sports in the High School. For several years each class has selected a track team of their own in which they competed with other classes. New equipment has been purchased and several boys have taken an interest in this fine spring sport. The last week of the school year, a track meet was held to determine the champion of the school. St. Marys competed with several other schools.

Some of the boys who showed extra talent in track were: Running, McCullough; Jones; Fleming; Hammett. Weights: Meeks; Hall; Hammett. Jumping: Morris; Ingram; Simonton; Seese.

This branch of athletics is one of the best and most interesting of the High School sports and it is hoped in the future it will occupy an even higher position on the athletic schedule of St. Marys High School.

ALUMNI

Throughout the year the Alumni Association has loyally and enthusiastically supported the high school in its various activities. The interest was especially keen in football.

At the St. Marys—Spencer game, October 30, the Alumni Association formally presented a score board to the school, a gift greatly appreciated both by the students and the public.

Why Do So Many Young People Fail?

One of our good friends, who enjoys hunting, tells that he learned a valuable lesson from his young beagle hound. As he walked along with the dog through a grown field, a pheasant flew up from the weeds near them, but the dog gave no heed. A little further on a covey of quail crossed the path in front of them, but the dog again was not interested. As they traveled on the dog left the path and approached a pile of brush, and was soon in hot pursuit of a rabbit, and did not stop till he had chased it to its home under a large stone. The dog knew what it was fitted for and also what it could not do well, and stuck to the job it could do.

We can not help thinking that many young people fail because they are attempting to do work for which they are in no sense fitted. We have in mind a young lady who wanted to teach. She had training and education, but simply could not control her pupils. She failed as a teacher, but later became a fine nurse.

We urge upon our young friends in The St. Marys High School to give serious thought to the matter of determining their life's work. Consult with your teachers, your parents and your worthwhile friends, and, if anyone connected with this bank can be of help to you, do not hesitate to come to us.
